Disability Insurance

Income Protection Matters

Disability insurance protects your income if you can't work due to an injury or illness, giving you money to help cover your bills.

How It Works

When you can't work, disability insurance helps keep your family's life on track. Here's a few examples of what you can use your disability payments for:

- ✓ Regular monthly bills like your mortgage or rent
- ✓ Daily expenses like groceries and utilities
- ✓ Car payments and insurance
- ✓ Your children's needs like school supplies and activities
- ✓ Healthcare costs while you recover

Your representative can work with you to decide how much coverage you need and what amount fits your budget.

Cash To Protect Your Income

Having a disabling injury or illness is unpredictable and can mean you aren't earning as much income. This plan helps replace income that's lost and can help you pay bills and meet other financial obligations.
